ALDO MARTINS PRESENTS THE FW'25-26
COLLECTION: INTO THE WHITE

Aldo Martins celebrates the spirit of winter with a collection that takes us back to the 70s après-ski glamour, reimagined for today with a modern, colorful twist. Inspired by two passions that drive us: knitwear fashion and winter sports, this collection captures the essence of snow and the mountains, blending urban, casual, and avant-garde styles.

With warm fabrics, ethnic prints, and vibrant patterns, the collection dives into the mountain world with unique energy. Sports graphics, checks, stripes, and color blocks come together to create a design that makes a statement, perfect for any time of day.

Three styles, one collection:

1. Urban line: For those days that demand the perfect balance between comfort and elegance.

2. Casual line: Fresh, fun, and ideal for outdoor escapes or simply enjoying your free time.

3. Avant-garde line: Designed to transform the everyday into the extraordinary, with designs that combine iconic details with modern functionality.

Rich textures, cozy volumes, and unexpected color combinations define this collection. It's an invitation to live winter with unique energy, whether in the city or on a mountain getaway. As always, Aldo Martins merges the best of tradition and innovation, with color as the key feature.
